

Questions To Ask During Your Season Singleness

The season of singleness is one that can sometimes be the hardest on women. Society has ingrained in our minds that we must be married at a certain age and usually after thirty something must be wrong with you. I went years only wanting marriage. That was always my initial thought in a relationship; as it should be. However, I amplified my desires and created a golden calf and idolized that idea. To my surprise my relationship with my boyfriend was where I grew the closest to God. Seeing that my boyfriend is not my husband yet, I needed to learn who I was in Christ before entering the threshold of marriage.

Therefore, I know some may say, “but you have a man, so you don’t relate to those completely single.” Though I am in a committed relationship, I still must undergo the challenges of honoring God which is much more difficult with the temptation of another person. Imagine being so close to something but so far. It’s like a glass put in between us. You see everything but you can’t touch everything. So, understand God wants our attention and our authentic intimacy no matter what. So, don’t fret let’s dive into our singleness.

- 1. What does singleness mean to you?
- 2. What exactly do you think God desire from YOU specifically?
- 3. How will you be able to give this desire to Him?
- 4. What is your testimony? How did you come to know Christ? Everyone has a story of how they met write down yours.
- 5. How do you spend time with the Lord? What is His love language and what is yours?
- 6. What is the hardest part of your singleness?
- 7. Have you spoken to God on the matter?
- 8. List the things you have learned about yourself during this season
- 9. Do you think you are ready for a relationship? why or why not
- 10. Is there something that occupies your time and your thoughts more than God?
- 11. Are you everything that you hope to find in a mate?
- 12. What is the same mountain that you keep passing? What is that thing you continue to do and have not yet learned from?
- 13. Can you really be happy with just Jesus?
- 14. What are you doing to prepare yourself for marriage?
- 15. What is your ultimate goal in life?